

I can look at one of them all the time, but wish I could see the original one. for I would give almost anything to see her now. We have not had any rain for a long time and nearly all the flowers have withered and faded away.

I hope you will have a good time next Sunday at the singing.

I trust you will find 7 of those good looking photos. I wish I could kiss all of them so I could put one in all my pockets to look at all through the day.

You must excuse my short letter as I am very busy today and have been for several weeks but will always be my dear ones sweet letter. Well I must close for this time excuse me
